The foundation of our success is our expertise in packaging design and supply to ensure safe, protective transit for your products. Corrugated containers, interior die-cuts, cushioning foams and plastics, and wood crates have been an integral part of our core competency throughout our 70-year history. Every Stephen Gould account executive is a packaging specialist, trained and equipped to customize efficient, economic solutions for your product's exacting requirements. We achieve client satisfaction by creating the best solutions of mediums to maximize product protection while minimizing material and assembly costs.
